New Training Targets Bilingual Residents for Apartment Leasing and Maintenance Careers

The property management industry offers many career opportunities, and Metro Multifamily Housing Association (MMHA) is a leader in the training and development of Leasing, Management and Maintenance career tracks in rental housing.

MMHA has partnered with Home Forward to offer apartment leasing and apartment maintenance classes specifically designed to train bilingual residents to take advantage of employment opportunities at properties in need of staff with multiple language skills. Classes include Customer Service, Fair Housing, Turnover & Unit Inspection, Landlord/Tenant Law and Employee Readiness.

The apartment industry has several entry level positions that offer rewarding career opportunities. Typical benefits include having no commute by living and working at the same location, stellar advancement opportunities as often the industry promotes from within and job training and experience that is applicable to any future endeavor.
